Office of the Speaker

Home Address
P.O. Box 97
Covington, Tennessee 38019
(901) 476-9593

Welcome:

On behalf of the 99 members of the Tennessee House of Representatives, I want to welcome you to the State Capitol and the House Chamber.

During your visit here with us, I hope you will take the time to look around and observe the historical and exquisite architecture you will find throughout capitol hill. Despite the stately appearance of the capitol building, you will find that it still serves the viable function for which it was erected back in 1855. The House Chamber, in conjunction with the Legislative Plaza, is where your state legislators meet to study, debate and ultimately pass the laws of Tennessee.

Please remember that all sessions of the General Assembly held in the Chamber, as well as all meetings held in the Legislative Plaza, are open to the public. I would encourage you to attend a meeting of the House of Representatives so that you can see how the legislative process works. I also encourage you to visit the state representative from your home district. Be assured that you are more than welcome to meet with any of them at any time to voice your opinion on an issue or for any other reason you may wish.

Again, thank you for visiting the Tennessee House of Representatives and I hope that you enjoy your stay here with us.

Sincerely,

Jimmy Naifeh

SEATING OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 98TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS

The General Assembly convenes on the second Tuesday in January of each odd numbered year for an organizational session. The organizational session may not last more than 15 consecutive calendar days. No legislation can be enacted during the organizational session. The General Assembly then reconvenes no later than the Tuesday following the organizational session to commence the regular session. The General Assembly may then recess or adjourn from time to time as it may determine. Generally, Legislative sessions last from mid-January through late April or May of each year.

SPEAKER'S OFFICE

CHARLES TODD
ADMINISTRATIVE

RETA ADAMS
ASSISTANT

The Office of the Speaker must handle all of the normal duties which are handled by the offices of individual members plus the additional administrative and legislative duties which are unique to the Office of the Speaker. Personnel in the Speaker's Office assist the Speaker in addressing constituent questions and concerns, tracking the approximately 3,000 pieces of legislation which are filed during each term of the General Assembly, co-ordinating the signing by the Speaker of legislation which is enacted into law and all resolutions which are adopted, advising the Speaker on important legislative matters which are being reviewed by legislative committees and reviewing with the Speaker all bills and resolutions which are scheduled for committee and floor action. Personnel in the Speaker's Office co-ordinate the Speaker's schedule of meetings both with constituents and with public officials. They assist in the hiring of all House staff personnel including professional and secretarial staff, custodians and security personnel.

The Speaker's Office must handle requests from members for office assignments, office staff and furniture, per diem requests and excuses from members who are unable to attend legislative sessions.

OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

BURNEY T. DURHAM
CHIEF CLERK OF THE HOUSE

The Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is appointed by the Speaker of the House as one of the first orders of business during the Organizational Session every two years.

The Chief Clerk's Office of the House of Representatives is charged with keeping all official records of the House. This involves accepting legislation for introduction, keeping appropriate files of all bills and resolutions; providing clerking staff to standing committees; compiling and distributing a weekly agenda of committee meetings and scheduled bills; compiling a daily journal of activities of the House; providing vote information to members, the press and public; keeping accurate records of all committee proceedings; accepting all amendments filed by members; data entry of bill Introductions and sponsors of legislation; keeping a bill and personal Index of all legislation; and other clerical activities. In addition, the Chief Clerk performs other duties assigned to him by the Speaker.

BETTY KAY FRANCIS
CHIEF ENGROSSING CLERK OF THE HOUSE

The Chief Engrossing Clerk of the House of Representatives is also appointed by the Speaker of the House.

The primary function of the Engrossing Clerk's Office is to combine bill text and adopted amendment text; if passed by one House only, it is referred to as "Engrossing"; if passed by both Houses it is referred to as "Enrolling". Engrossing readies a bill for transmission to the second House; Enrolling prepares a bill for transmission to the Speakers and/or Governor for their signatures.

This office also prepares photo-ready letterhead and newsletters as well as other documents, (such as certificates of recognition, proclamations, page certificates, etc.) and prepares presentation copies of resolutions and proclamations.

Wanda Choate - Assistant Chief Engrossing Clerk
Frances Warren - Engrossing Clerk
Sherry Warren Winn - Engrossing Clerk

ROBERT MOSBY
CHIEF SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE HOUSE

All Sergeants-at-Arms are responsible through the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms to the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Chief Sergeant-at-Arms is appointed by the Speaker as one of the first orders of business during the Organizational Session of a General Assembly. It is their responsibility to keep order in the Chamber; to secure the doors and admit only appropriate people to the floor while the legislature is in session, and to perform other functions at the direction of the Speaker.

THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Under Tennessee's Constitution, the legislative authority of the State of Tennessee is vested in the General Assembly, which consists of a Senate and a House of Representatives, both dependent on the people (that is, popularly elected). The name of the legislative authority may vary from state to state, but usually it is called the Legislature or the General Assembly. The official title in our state is the "General Assembly of the State of Tennessee", but it is entirely proper to refer to the "Legislature".

The House of Representatives is composed of 99 members who are elected to two year terms of office. They are elected by the voters of their House legislative district. A representative must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years old, a citizen of Tennessee for at least 3 years and a resident of the county he represents for at least one year before the election.

The Senate is composed of 33 members who are elected to four year terms of office. They are elected by the voters of their Senate legislative district. A senator must be a citizen of the United States, at least 30 years old, a citizen of Tennessee for at least 3 years and a resident of the county or district they represent for at least one year before the election. While Senate terms are for 4 years, approximately half of the senators run for office every two years. This is generally referred to as "staggered terms".

The General Assembly convenes on the second Tuesday in January of each odd-numbered year for an organizational session of not more than 15 calendar days. When the Legislature initially convenes, the first order of business is the swearing in of the members-elect. The two bodies meet in their respective chambers and the members take an oath of office swearing to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of Tennessee and to perform their official duties impartially without favor or prejudice and to always protect the rights of the people. Each body adopts its rules of procedure.

The membership of each body then elects a presiding officer or speaker.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives is elected by the entire membership of the House for a two year term (the lifetime of each separate General Assembly) and holds that office until a successor is chosen at the initial convening of the next General Assembly. No limit is placed on the number of times a member may retain the office of Speaker. Under current rules the House also elects a Speaker Pro tempore.

The Speaker appoints the officers of the House including the Chief Clerk, Chief Engrossing Clerk and Chief Sergeant-at-Arms. The Speaker also appoints the officers of each standing committee and the membership of the standing committees. Once all organizational business is completed the General Assembly then convenes in regular session and begins to act on legislation.

In general, the functions of the Legislature are to enact, amend, and repeal the laws of Tennessee. Some of the specific powers granted to the General Assembly by the State Constitution include: the appropriation of all money to be paid out of the State treasury; the levy and collection of taxes and the right to authorize counties and incorporated towns to levy taxes.

A quorum of two-thirds of all the members to which a house is entitled is required to transact any business; a smaller number can only adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members.

For a new law to be made it must be passed on three separate days by both the House and Senate. A constitutional majority is required for a new law to pass. This means it must receive at least 50 favorable votes in the House and 17 favorable votes in the Senate.

In practice an idea for a new law is put into a form that is referred to as a "bill". That "bill" is then passed by each the House and Senate twice. At that time general bills (ones with state application) are referred to committee for review. That is where most of the work is done in determining if the bill should be modified, amended, or not reported out of the committee. Bills which the committees do approve are sent on through the system so that eventually they may be voted on by the full House for the third and final time. Once a new law has been acted on favorably by the House and Senate it is then sent to the Governor who can approve it by signing it, veto it, or let it become a law without his signature.

THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

NED R. McWHERTER
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE

"The Supreme Executive power of this State shall be vested in a Governor," according to Article III of the Constitution of Tennessee. The Governor is the highest state official. He heads the executive branch of the state government, and in this capacity as chief executive he is generally held accountable for overall administration during his term of office. He must see that the laws are enforced, that the taxes are collected, that public money is wisely spent.

He is the recognized leader of all the citizens in the State, and in addition, is the state leader of his political party. As such, the Governor has a strong voice in shaping the policies of the national party of which he is a member. The Governor is the spokesman for all the people of Tennessee in national matters and their representative where a single voice is needed in matters of concern outside the boundaries of the State.

The Governor is commander-in-chief of the "Army and Navy of this state" and of the Tennessee National Guard. The Governor has the power to grant reprieves and pardons, except in cases of impeachment.

The Governor is elected by the people of the state, specifically by the electors of the members of the General Assembly. He must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and a citizen of Tennessee seven years preceding his election. The Governor's term is four years, and he holds office until a successor is elected and qualified. Tennessee governors can now serve for additional four-year terms but are limited to no more than two consecutive terms.

While the General Assembly has the sole power to pass bills, the Governor must receive every bill before it can become law. He then has the right to approve a bill by signing it into law; he can refuse to sign a bill, returning it with his objections in writing to the house in which the bill originated (that is, he can veto the bill); or he can fail to return a bill with his objections during the ten-day period he has to consider a bill after it is presented to him and the bill will become law without his signature. Every joint resolution, except those dealing with adjournment of the General Assembly and those proposing specific amendments to the Constitution must likewise be presented to the Governor for his consideration.

He has veto powers on joint resolutions as well as on bills. In addition, the Governor may reduce or disapprove sums of money appropriated in bills, while approving other portions of such bills. The portions approved become law, while the portions reduced or disapproved are void to the extent reduced or disapproved unless both houses of the General Assembly "override" such "item vetoes" by repassing the bill or specific item, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding. A majority of the members to which each body is entitled is required to override a veto (50 of the 99 members of the House and 17 of the 33 members of the Senate).

The Governor also has the right to call a special session of the legislature and to appoint judges and chancellors to fill vacancies caused by death or resignation.

To assist him in the operation of the government, the Governor appoints commissioners to head the various departments. These commissioners, plus some of the highest ranking members of the Governor's own staff, constitute the "Governor's Cabinet". Commissioners do not receive legislative confirmation. They report directly to him or to him through one of his staff members. While the commissioners are located in offices generally near Capitol Hill, the Governor and his staff are located on the ground and first floors of the Capitol.

CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS

There are three officers in the State known as Constitutional Officers: the Secretary of State, the Comptroller, and the Treasurer. The Constitution provides that each shall be elected by the members of the General Assembly; the Secretary of State for four years and the Comptroller and Treasurer for two years each.

RILEY C. DARNELL
SECRETARY OF THE STATE

The Secretary of State is mandated by the Constitution to keep a register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor. It also keeps all acts and resolutions adopted by the General Assembly and signed by the Governor. Other duties include: supervising and overseeing all Tennessee Elections; licensing charitable organizations; receipt and recording of all corporate charters and annual reports; the receipt of all trademarks; the execution of notary commissions; and receipt of all state administrative rules and regulations. The Secretary of State serves on the State Funding Board, Board of Equalization, Board of Claims, State Building Commission, Library and Archives Management Board, School Bond Authority, Publications Committee, Public Records Commission, Tennessee Housing Development Agency, Board of Trustees of Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System, State Capitol Commission, Tennessee Competitive Export Corporation and others. The Election Commission and State Library and Archives are in this department. They have offices in the State Capitol as well as the James K. Polk State Office Building.

WILLIAM R. SNODGRASS
COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY

The Comptroller of the Treasury is responsible for audit of State and local government entities and participates in the general financial and administrative management of State Government. The Comptroller is a member of the State Building Commission, State Capitol Commission, Board of Claims, Board of Equalization, State Funding Board, Tennessee State School Bond Authority, Tennessee Local Development Authority, Tennessee Housing Development Agency, Board of Standards, Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System, Health Facilities Commission, Tennessee Student Assistance Corp., Publications Committee, Public Records Commission, State Insurance Committee, Local Education Insurance Committee, Local Government Insurance Committee, State Library and Archives Management Board, Tennessee Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, Information Systems Council, Tennessee Competitive Export Corp., State Trust of Tennessee Board of Directors, Child Care Facilities

Loan Guarantee Corp., Governor's Council on Health and Physical Fitness, Tennessee Sports Festivals, Inc., Utility Management Review Board, Local Government Data Processing Corporation, Tennessee Commodity Producers Indemnity Corporation, Worker's Compensation Insurance Fund Board, Wastewater Financing Board and the 1996 Bicentennial Commission. The Capitol Print Shop is part of the Comptroller's Office. The Comptroller has an office in the State Capitol and staff offices in the James K. Polk State Office Building.

STEVE ADAMS
STATE TREASURER

The State Treasurer is charged with various duties including accounting for the receipt and disbursement of public funds, investing available cash balances, administering the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System and investing the pension fund. The Treasurer's Office is responsible for operating the State's Unclaimed Property and Escheat Program, the Division of Claims Administration, Deferred Compensation and Flexible Benefits. The Treasurer is a member of the Bank Collateral Pool Board, Board of Claims, Board of Equalization, Board of Trustees of the TCRS, Commission to Purchase Federal Property, Commodity Producer Indemnity Corp., Council on Pensions and Insurance, Defense Counsel Commission, Funding Board, Investment Advisory Council, Public Records Commission, Savings Institution Collateral Pool Board, Security for Public Deposits Task Force, Sick Leave Bank Board, State Building Commission, State Capitol Commission, State Insurance Committee, State Library and Archives Management Board, State School Bond Authority, State Teacher Insurance Committee, State Trust of Tennessee, TN Child Care Loan Guarantee Board, TN Competitive Export Corp., TN Higher Education Commission, TN Housing Development Agency, TN Local Development Authority, TN Student Assistance Corporation, Tuition Guaranty Fund Board and the Workers Compensation Fund Board. The Treasurer has an office in the State Capitol; staff offices are in the Andrew Jackson State Office Building.

THE HOUSE CHAMBER*

The House of Representatives is the most monumental space created by William Strickland for the capitol and the one significant design most fully realized before his death in 1854. The room was first occupied in October 1853 in an uncompleted state by the General Assembly. The hall encompasses the whole south end of the second floor, is two stories high and is flanked by galleries situated above eight small offices. These offices originally served as committee rooms with direct access from the floor of the House. The galleries are separated from the hall at each side by eight monolithic limestone columns. The fluted stone shafts are topped by Composite Ionic capitals of the same stone. The hall was finished almost entirely in limestone with the exception of the oak window sash and doors and a coffered plaster ceiling.

The original furnishings included 45 large double white oak desks supplied by the South Nashville Manufacturing Company and 127 large white oak chairs with cushions supplied by McComb and Cornelius. The utilitarian character of the desks is apparent in early photographs of the Hall. The nature of the oak chairs is questionable. The earliest representation of the Hall was a steel engraving illustrating a 1858 Methodist convention. That view shows upholstered barrel back chairs in the stylish Rococo mode. Similar chairs were installed in the Senate Chamber of the Vermont State Capitol in 1859. All other early representation of the Hall illustrate simple three rung ladder back and spindle back "captain" style chairs. Both are more in keeping with the sturdy unadorned nature of the oak desks although the spindle back chair may be the original one used. The same chair is seen in a late 19th century photograph of the Senate Chamber.

Another object originally in the House Chamber was a large white marble faced eight day wallclock manufactured by Howard & Davis, of Boston. This clock was placed on the north wall and is visible in a photograph taken in 1954. Also seen in this photograph is a small wood "school house" pendulum clock manufactured by Seth Thomas and still in use today.

There were fifty recessed downlights installed in the ceiling in 1957. Four ornate bronze incandescent chandeliers are suspended from the ceiling. Each fixture features two tiers of lights with a total of twenty-four bulbs. The spherical frosted glass globes have an engraved star motif. These fixtures can be lowered for relamping from individual electrical winches in the attic.

The 1969 renovation included the installation of the draperies featuring fabric incorporating the state seal and metallic painted wood cornices with an egg and dart molding. New mahogany members desks with enclosed and paneled bases replaced a second generation of similar desks which in turn replaced the original oak double desks.

Four electronic voting and information boards were recently installed on the ledge in front of the east and west galleries in 1985.

To Our Visitors:

This is the first edition of what will hopefully become a biennial publication for the Tennessee House of Representatives. It was compiled under the authorization of Speaker Jimmy Naifeh in response to the numerous requests from visitors to the House Chamber for more information on the membership and the workings of the House. It is designed as a means to make your visit to the House Chamber and Capitol both more informative and more enjoyable.

Some of the information contained in this publication is in direct response to inquiries frequently made by our visitors. Other portions contain information we felt would be of interest to our guests. It is by no means exhaustive. As this publication evolves over time, we hope to include additional information on those further inquiries our guests make. While on your visit to the House Chamber feel free to ask questions of any staff member on hand and to offer your own suggestions for enhancement of this publication.

We hope you enjoyed your visit. Please come again.
